

Chris McDonald, Esq.

Educational Background:

B.S., Manhattan College, 1986 (cum laude)
J.D., Fordham University School of Law, 1992
(Dean's List, Law Review)

Experience:

Mediator since 2020, following a 27+ year career as a litigator and in-house attorney

ADR Philosophy:

“Adversaries in litigation are stuck in the same boat but rowing in different directions. A pragmatic, common sense approach to mediation can help them change course. Parties who mediate their disputes can often resolve them more quickly, less expensively, and with greater control over the outcome.”

Current Panels:

NCBA Mediation Panels: Commercial, Intellectual Property, Labor & Employment, Personal Injury/Property Damage/Medical Malpractice, Securities/Investments
